THIS IS THE DAY WE CLEAN HOUSE

IT WILL BE A RED-LETTER DAY FOR GLENDALE

Everybody Expected to be at the City Hall at 8 a.m., and All to be the Guests of the Ladies at Luncheon

LAYS OF A QUIET TOWN.

LAY IV.

A tumble weed at break neck speed
Was hurrying down the street
When to his woe the man with the hoe
Surrounded him most complete.

"Surrender," cried he of the horny hand
As he raised his weapon high,
"Stand and deliver, or at least please stand
Ere I smite your hip and thigh!"

Then the tumble weed put on the brake
And heaved a large-sized sigh;
Quoth he, "It's unkind in you to make Such a desperate outcry."

"Why the street is mine to all intent.
And the sidewalks they are free:
Their course is laid in good cement,
To accommodate such as me."

And the hoeman then he weakly said,
As the tumbler he eyed askance,
"My friend, it may be as you tell it me,
But then there's the ordinance!

"The city fathers by a decree
Which you'll find on a page of the News,
Have built the sidewalks for such as me
But not for such as youse."

Then the tumble weed he smiled with scorn,
And boldly prepared to go,
"My friend," he said, "are you just born
That you try to reason so."

"The men of my clan will fight to a man
For a cause which they seek to advance
But hanged if we stop for hoe or cop,
Or a moth blown ordinance."

"Halt!" said he of the upraised hoe,
As a bright thought pierced his mail,
"This order comes, I'd have you know
From the ladies of Glendale."

Then the tumble weed gave a final sigh
And to himself tumbled he,
"It's the proper thing for me to die
If the ladies are down on me."

Then up from the ranks of the hoe brigade,
And out from the sunbonnets too,
Rose a shout of triumph that even made
The cheeks of the daisies blue!

And men may work and women toil,
For the Lord hath made them so;
But never a weed that cumbers the soil
Can long continue to grow.
And never a wrong
Shall prosper long,
When together they bid it go!

At 8 o'clock this morning the workers assemble at the city hall, on Fourth street near Glendale avenue. The city has been divided into districts and every district will be in charge of some person designated to lead the campaign against the enemies of our reputation which can be found on and along the streets and in parkways and vacant lots of the town. Mayor Parcher is in full command and has put in a good deal of time during the past week in preparing for the work. The ladies have been fortunate in securing a large quantity of poppy seed, the sowing of which will be done by them. As for the luncheon which the ladies will furnish to everybody, the supply of edibles contributed to the committee insures full satisfaction as to both quality and quantity. Indeed, so liberal have the people been that it has not been necessary to canvass as thoroughly as was expected. Already good results are apparent in advance of the day set for the general work. There has been more cleaning up of streets and lots by individuals during the past week than has been done in months before. Smoke from burning rubbish has curled up cheerily in the atmosphere from all directions and the two or three accessible public dumping places on the outskirts of the town have had large and choice additions to their store. Generally the people have taken hold of the work in a spirit of enthusiasm; there have been a few who feared that it was a "local issue" intended for the benefit of a particular section of the city, but this number is limited. Providence and the weather permitting, the day promises to give all that was hoped for.

Pretty Birthday Party

On Friday evening, December 6th, Miss Mabel Kerr, of Chestnut street, entertained a number of her young friends in honor of her sixteenth birthday. The new bungalow home was most attractively decorated with flowers and greenery, and a very dainty birthday dinner proved the chief attraction. Favors and placecards were hand painted, the work of the young hostess. Original games furnished much merriment, and a thoroughly good time was enjoyed by all.

"Y" Notes

The "Y" met last Monday evening, December 2, at the M. E. parsonage, corner Third and C streets. After devotional and business, a very pleasant social hour was enjoyed. The society deceided to meet again in two weeks at the home of Mr. Lennox, Second and Verdugo Road. All are very cordially invited.

John A. Eppinger has taken the agency of the Union Assurance (Fire) Co. of London, Eng. Surplus $11,000,000. All San Francisco losses paid without question or discount. If you can see your way clear, favor the old man with some of your risks.

NEWS OF WEEK.

Mrs. Bradley, who shot Senator Brown of Utah, acquitted by jury on second ballot.

President Roosevelt reiterates his positive assertion that he will not accept a renomination; at least Representative Hinshaw so reports.

Ex-Attorney General Tirey L. Ford acquitted of bribery in San Francisco. Will be tried on another indictment. Patrick Calhoun, manager of the United Railways, now on trial.

Sixtieth Congress convenes. 365 members present. Speaker Cannon re-elected. Sharp discussion over adoption of old rules results in adoption by vote of 197 to 180.

The Oliver grand jury in San Francisco makes its final report and is discharged. Been in session 100 days, found 441 indictments and examined 597 witnesses. Reports "Unbelievable corruption."

President's message contains nothing sensational. Is consistent with his previous declarations of policy. Favors occasional revisions of tariff, particularly after presidential elections.

FOR SALE—A good "Empire" Upright Piano. Used two years; must sell, will sell for low cash. Apply this office.

AT THE SANITARIUM.

As stated last week, Mr. W. A. Simpson and Dr. Winegar Simpson, so long connected with this institution as manager and physician respectively, have gone to Long Beach where they take charge of the hospital and sanitarium at that place. Their departure is sincerely regretted both at the sanitarium and in the community at large. Mr. Kane, who has been in the office with Mr. Simpson, succeeds the latter as manager here. Mr. Kane is favorably known to our people and receives a well deserved promotion.

Dr. Simpson's place is filled by Dr. Etta Gray, who comes from the St. Helena institution. Miss Florence Nightingale succeeds Mr. Kane as bookkeeper. The sanitarium is well filled at present and the season now beginning promises to tax its capacity to the utmost. Among late arrivals are the following:

R. A. Brown, Bakersfield; Mrs. Sarah Parks, Melrose, Mass.; Mrs. Johnson, San Francisco; S. A. Corbett, San Francisco; Mr. Whendling, Los Angeles; P. O. Boyd, Pasadena; Mrs. Henry B. Goodwin, Los Angeles; Mrs. Imo Anthony, Pomona; Mrs. Alta M. Barnhart, Pomona; Mrs. Maggie Wilks, San Fernando; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cullen, Spokane; Mrs. Offinga, Los Angeles; Ray Noll, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Burch, San Fernando; Mrs. Crose, Los Angeles; W. C. White, St. Helena; Mrs. E. S. White, St. Helena; Sara McEnterfer, St. Helena; C. C. Crisler, St. Helena.

THE STREET LAMPS.

We note with pleasure the fact that new lamps have been put in on Glendale avenue at the corners of Third and Fourth streets respectively, so that hereafter there is a prospect that the town will not be left entirely in darkness. This public service has hitherto been very unsatisfactory.

FOR SALE—Good 4-seated Surrey, almost new. Will sell at a bargain. Corner Louise and Doran streets.

THE NEW RAILROAD

To set at rest the numerous rumors in regard to the extension of the line of the Los Angeles Railway Company up Verdugo Road, a reporter of the NEWS has interviewed Mr. Kuhrts, the chief engineer of that company, and also one of the other parties having a large interest in the construction of the new road, as well as the committee having the interests of Glendale in charge, and finds the present status to be as follows:

The railroad people are ready and willing to go ahead with construction as proposed, not being at all disposed to take advantage of the expiration of the time limit; on the contrary, the extension of their Eagle Rock line to Glendale, which would make that road a paying proposition, is so obviously to their advantage that they are no doubt anxious to make the extension when the bonus and right of way are provided.

Assuming that Mr. Hawes, the principal contributor to the bonus fund, would make his promised contribution good as soon as the balance of the fund was provided for, the committee went ahead and secured the pledges for the remainder. Mr. Hawes, however, attempted then to secure the concession of a five-cent fare between his tract (at the southeast corner of Glendale) and Los Angeles. This Mr. Huntington refused to grant, altho he recognizes the fact that that section should have a lower fare than is accorded to Glendale, and would probably be willing to make it 7½ cents on commutation tickets. Mr. Hawes, therefore, makes the payment of his share of the bonus contingent upon this and other conditions, the effect of which is to embarrass and delay.

As far as the Los Angeles Railway people are concerned, the present condition of finances throughout the country generally seems to cut no figure. They have not curtailed expenses in extensions or otherwise. They made a substantial reduction in the amount of bonus asked for in order to assist in bridging over the difference between Messrs. Glassell and Hawes as to right of way, and are disposed, we believe, to give the people of Glendale another railroad.

In the unlikely event of the failure of the present negotiations, it will simply mean that other plans will be devised to secure the same object.

It is our belief that the Los Angeles Reilway Company will come to Glendale. It will come very shortly if all agreements are carried out and all promises are fulfilled; its coming will be delayed otherwise, but it will come.

CARD OF THANKS.

The wife and children of the late S. B. Reid desire to thank their friends and neighbors for their sympathy and kindly assistance rendered in connection with the illness of the deceased.

GLENDALE, CAL., DECEMBER 7, 1907

Los Angeles has a buttermilk factory where they turn out a product "just as good as the old cow made." Next!

To "Anxious Inquier": We presume that Chicago is called "the windy city" because of the motion of the atmosphere. Yes, we have noticed that W. J. Bryan is billed for two political banquets there in the near future.

Just about the time we began to believe that our yellow war with Japan was at an end, we find this headline in the "Leading Daily": "Japan is Peeved," and are left in horrid suspense as to what is the matter with Japan, anyhow, the dictionary being inexcusably silent on the subject.

The President's Message

The president's message, which was read at the opening of the congress this week, contains nothing sensational, but is consistent with his policy and attitude heretofore. His expression in regard to the tariff is of interest as showing that he does not regard that subject as being so sacred as to be considered unchangeable. He says:

"In a country of such phenomenal growth as ours it is probably well that every dozen years or so the tariff law should be carefully scrutinized so as to see that no excessive or improper benefits are incurred thereby . . . In my judgment the wise time to deal with the matter is immediately after such [presidential] election."

This puts him in accord with Secretary Taft as being opposed to the position of the "stand-patters" headed by "Uncle Joe Cannon." Mr. Taft many months ago expressed himself as unequivocally in favor of a revision of schedules, taking ground in advance of his chief in this particular, a fact which greatly commended him to us at the time.

He favors a "greater elasticity in our currency," but makes no recommendation for any radical change.

The Stranger Within Our Gates

We need constantly to be on guard against the innate selfishness of our nature. It is an excellent exercise, promising much in the growth of unselfishness, to put ourselves more frequently than is customary, in the other mans place. In the attempt to get upon the viewpoint of our neighbor, we may catch a glimpse of things that will illumine the soul of us. Our city is youug, but it has in it all the elements which enter into the life of a place far more populous. While it is possible for everyone of us to become acquainted with his neighbors, it is yet a fact that we do not avail ourselves of the privilege. Always there are strangers among us, some of them are as the "Ships that pass in the night," but there are others who have left other homes and the close associations of the years that are gone to build new homes among us; and to all of these new comers we owe it that they should be cordially welcomed. The responsibility of doing this does not rest upon the members of any organization in particular, it is a common duty the burden of which should be borne by all. Our churches some times attempt to perform this particular duty and they do much that is good in this direction, but there is no good reason why the responsibility should rest upon the church exclusively, altho of course it cannot consistently be shirked by those who profess a belief in the teachings of that One who said in a parable, "I was a stranger and ye visited me not."

A lady who had been in Glendale a few months was afflicted some time ago with serious illness, and when she became convalescent she said, "I have been in a good many places, but this is the most unneighborly community that I ever lived in. All the time I was sick only one or two people called to see me." This is a serious indictment to place against a community, No place can afford to have such a reputation. As a people we should endeavor to prove that it is undeserved. People do not intend to be unneighborly; they are only thoughtless. The whole community with one impulse will hurry to the assistance of the victim of some spectacular disaster or well advertised misfortune, but will at the same time allow a stranger to quietly and unostentatiously die in their midst without taking thought about it!

Have we too many organizations for the benefits of members only, church, fraternal, social and other things that move in circles and leave out the unfortunates who happen to be located between their orbits? There is something needful besides "public improvements," and it is a need that can be supplied without the expenditure of money. Let us see to it that we do not neglect the stranger within our gates."

Patrotism at Sacramento Explained

Assemblyman "Bob" Bell, who is down in the offical roster of the California legislature as one of the representatives of Los Angeles county, but who has lived in Sacramento for the last two years, where he is holding down a cushioned seat in the secretary of state's office, won a round of applause at yesterday's session, when he rose in his place and announced, with heroic gestures, that he would not accept the $89.40 of mileage which was technically due him.

When "Bob's" friends in the Sixth ward, where he is a trusty spoke in the organization's local wheel, heard about the assemblyman's self-sacrificing spirit and the salvo with which it was greeted, they smiled. They say that Bell's onerous duties in the line of assigning numbers to automobile tags will hardly be interrupted seriously by his walking across the hall a few days this week and next, to sit as a member of the assembly. The job in the secretary of state's office was created especially for the assemblyman about two years ago, and since he went to Sacramento to live his name does not even appear in the Los Angeles city directory.

Tax paying citizens who note Mr. Bell's patriotism are more interested to hear what Senator H. S. G. McCartney and several others of the Los Angeles county statemen said about mileage, when their turn came. They went out of Los Angeles on a midnight train last Sunday, ostensibly because they could make better connections at Tracy for Sacramento, while the Owl which is used ordinarily by first class passengers, carried few or no legislators north. Passes are not good on the Owl; they are on the midnight train.

The above is from the Evening News of recent date Assemblyman Bell was at one time a resident of North Glendale. He was picked up by the Parker machine to represent one of the Los Angeles districts in the Assembly at the last election. He certainly should be given credit for magnanimously refusing mileage when he could just as well have taken it. Of course he did not travel from Los Angeles to attend the special session, but he is as much entitled to the mileage steal as some of his colleagues who did go up from the South, because he paid just as much for his passage.

Every legislator is allowed ten cents per mile for the distance traveled from his home to the capital. He does not have to make any affidavit or present any voucher for money paid, it is just handed to him out of the state treasury. Possibly one member out of six in the legislative body, pays his fare; the rest ride on tickets or passes presented to them by Mr. Parker or some of the other representatives of the political bureau of the S. P. R. R. Co. This item alone makes it quite worth while for a statesmen to attend a special session.

The one just ended took up less than one weeks time and the mileage alone is pretty fair compensation for the time consumed, and in addition to the regular per diem of $8.00 makes statesmanship quite lucrative. That Senator McCartney rode on a free ticket and got his per diem also is something more than a reasonable probabilty. He and his colleagues on the midnight train will have nothing to say "about mileage." The Senator is Chairman of the Hold-over committee on Revenue and Taxation, and doubtless finds it necessary to make frequent journeys to Sacramento, and always "mileage" is a consideration not to be overlooked.

G. B. HOFFMAN, Secretary.

Office at the Bank of Glendale, northwest corner of Glendale avenue and Fourth street, Glendale, Los Angeles County, California.

At the Colegrove Board of Trade, Monday night, a total of 612 contracts was reported as signed with the Southern California Circuit Gas Co. It was expected the canvass of East Hollywood would bring the total up to 750 or 800. Then it would rest with the company either to put in the plant near the oil wells or to return to the first purpose and confine its present efforts to Glendale. The rumor that the company has been selling pipe was emphatically denied. The story of the enterprise was briefly outlined, the purely accidental meeting of representatives of Colegrove and the Gas Co., and the efforts to interest Colegrove in the Glendale enterprise the counter effort to interest the Glendale company in Colegrove, the examination of East and South Hollywood, Colegrove and Hollywood by the engineers of the Gas Company, and the consent of the company to postpone operations in Glendale until the new territory could be canvassed. In the interim large tracts in the Wilshire district, and parties at Sherman and Beverly stood ready to make very favorable terms with the new company. All things considered Colegrove parties interested regard the enterprise as the most promising business proposition in this part of the country, and confidently look forward to its consumation. It is realized that the fact that the company is not likely to include Hollywood cuts off one source of business, but success in other directions is so much greater than anticipated that it is believed the enterprise can be made very profitable without Hollywood.—Citizen.

AT THE COUNTRY CLUB.

The first annual meeting of the stockholders was held Monday evening last and the following directors were chosen L. C. Brand, George T. Holman, E. W. Pack, H. H. Davenport and Ezra F. Parker.

A resolution was unanimously adopted thanking Mr. Brand for his liberal action in regard to the club and his efforts to promote its success. There was a large turnout, the largest assembly of members ever gathered together, in fact, and a great deal of enthusiasm was shown in regard to the securing of new members and the upbuilding of the club. The present membership is about sixty.

The regular Monday night dancing club and hop that was postponed on account of the election was held Friday evening. A great many who do not dance, come for a game of cards and these Monday night gatherings are very popular and the attendance is constantly increasing. Those who are learning to dance are making progress and those who know how already are having a good deal of fun helping the novices.

On New Years eve, December 31, the club is going to give a New Year's party and dance. The members and invited guests are expected to make this the most successful party of the season and as other parties have been largely attended and full of enjoyment, something rare will be forthcoming.

THE PASSING OF ANOTHER PATRIARCH.

If Bro. Mason G. Seely had lived a few days longer he would have reached the ripe age of 86. Bro. Seely was a member of the Baptist church of Rochester, New York, for half a century, and an honored deacon of that church for thirty-seven years. When finally he was called to move farther west his pastor and church united in words and tokens of loving remembrance and regrets at his departure. He came to California about six years ago and to this place about the beginning of the present year, living with his sons and daughter-in-law, about one mile west on Kenneth road. The first Sunday morning he set out for the service in the Lord's house and missing the car at Casa Verdugo this faithful child of eighty-five years walked the entire distance to Glendale rather than miss the service. He has been an esteemed member of the Baptist church here for seven months. About four weeks ago he removed to Sierra Madre where the final call came to him last Saturday. The funeral services were concluded by his pastor, Rev. Stone, in the parlors of Adams, Turner & Stephens of Pasadena, Monday, Dec. 2d, at 10 a. m. The interment in the cemetery at that place.

SPLENDID WORK.

The Russian Countess Blumenthal, who has done such splendid work in this country by creating a demand for the beautiful lace work of the peasant women of her country and in this way increased the meager pay received for this work, has arranged a beautiful exhibit of Russian laces, drawn work, etc., at the home of Mrs. Florence Collins Porter in South Pasadena. Take short line to Monterey Road. Mrs. Porter, who is district president of women's clubs, has very generously thrown open her home in this good work and no doubt many women will be glad to see the fine display and help the good work by purchasing the fine goods at reasonable prices.

In conversation with a Los Angeles paper art critic the writer learned that the goods were very beautiful. We believe Glendale ladies are visiting the display.

TREE PLANTING AT HOLLYWOOD.

The citizens of Hollywood have begun an active campaign for the complete planting of all streets in that beautiful little city. The civic section of the Hollywood Woman's Club has the matter in charge, and has the active support and co-operation of the Board of Trade and the City Trustees. The latter body has promised that where any street is three-fourths planted and the women cannot prevail on the remaining property owners to improve their frontage, that the city will do the work provided that no more than $500 be expended for this purpose in any one year. This is the most liberal offer yet extended by a municipality in Southern California, and should result in a tidal wave of street-tree planting that will leave the whole city plat a great checkerboard marked off with lines of living green. —Times.

Miss Helen Dell Lamson, of Corona, spent several days visiting her grand parents, Rev. W. S. Blackburn and wife, her numerous local relatives and many friends.

Mr. G. H. Hyer arrived on Monday night from Salt Lake City and gave his family, living on Third street, a gennine surprise, as he was not expected. He will locate here permanently.

Mrs Fred Anderson, of C street, entertained at a Thanksgiving dinner in honor of her sister, Mrs. C. R. Norton, of Cucamonga. A sumptious feast was the result of Mrs. Anderson's culinary art.

On Tuesday Mr. H. Smith, who recently arrived in our town from Montreal, went down to redondo and captured a 30-pound yellowtail and two others that, together, weighed just thirty pounds.

The first frost of the season occured on Saturday evening during the moving picture show in the Masonic hall, given under the auspices of the High school. No one need worry. It will not be repeated.

On Tuesday afternoon the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Methodist-Episcopal church held a most interesting meeting in the home of Mrs. R. D. Goss, Fifth street. Refreshments were served at the close of the pleasant afternoon.

Miss R. M. Sherer, has sold her home on Fourth street near the Grammar school to Mr. John Klamm, of Indiana. Mr. Klamm moved in with his family on Wednesday last. Miss Sherer is building a cottage on the Max Muir tract, Fourth street near Adams.

A meeting for men and boys will be held at the Presbyterian Church at 8 p.m., Tuesday, December 10th. Mr. E. A. K. Hackett, Editor of the Fort Wayne, Indina Sentinel will speak on how to be successful in life. All the men and boys of the community are invited to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Dodge have returned from a sixty days' visit to their Missouri home and have settled down for the winter in their home on Verdugo Road near Fourth street. Mr. Dodge reports that Kansas has a fine corn crop and is prospering, notwithstanding the "scrip" era in finances.

Mrs. Ellen Brown Newcomb, who injured her side last week by falling over the edge of a bathtub, is reported as improved greatly. Mrs. Newcomb is about seventy-five years of age and her strength and ambition to be about is remarkable. She says Glendale sunshine is responsible for the splendid activity of her autumn days.

Mrs. George Ward, Third street, on Saturday chaperoned a picnic party to Eastlake park. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Farrand, Miss Lillian Ward and Miss Francis Hendershott of Glendale; and Mr. and Mrs. Addison and children and Mr. and Mrs. Smith and children of Montreal, Quebec, and Miss Goss of Boston, Mass.

A music-loving company on Sunday evening, composed of Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Emery, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Ferguson, went to Los Angeles to attend the concert interpreted in English music, at the Temple Auditorium, which on that occasion was packed to the dome. These concerts are given on the first Sunday of each month.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society meets on Tuesday at 2 p. m at the M. S. church. There will be a returned missionary with us and I am sure we will be greatly benefited and instructed by having one with us just from the field of labor. It will be an opportunity that none of us can afford to miss. Hope all will make an extra effort to attend.

On Tuesday the members of the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Presbyterian church met for an all-day meeting at the Presbyterian manse, home of Rev. and Mrs. S. Lawrence Ward. It was "busy day" and the ladies accomplished a great amount of sewing. A most elaborate and appetizing lunch was served at noon with hot tea and coffee. The regular meeting was called during the afternoon for business.

A party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. John Addison, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Addison and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, all of whom arrived in Glendale about a month ago from their Canadian homes, visited the ocean at Redondo last Monday. While there they went a-fishing, just in time. For a school of yellow tail apparently for Mr. Smith (who once caught a six pounder "back home") hauled in three of these gamy fish, the smallest weighing about 15 pounds and the largest thirty-five. The latter was a record-breaker for wharf fishing and partly atoned for the poor luck which attended the other members of the party. The fishing was not all however, as the party enjoyed to the fullest extent the summer atmosphere, the intimate embrace of the ocean as they dallied in its surf and breathed in ozone of the limitless West.

A BANQUET AND AN APPRECIATION.

In order to show in some small measure the love and appreciation of the Sisters of Chapter L. P. E. O., and their indispensables, the B. I. L.'s for Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Hezmalhalch, a most elaborate course dinner was served in the home of Mrs. Josephine Bryant on Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Two long banquet tables were arranged in the back parlor, where glowing masses of poinsettas and deep scarlet geraniums combined with greenery carried out a most artistic decorative scheme under the skillful direction of Mrs. C. E. Russell and the hostess.

The prelude to the program was contributed by the "Apron Brigade," composed of the more active B. O L.'s, after which there was a jolly Mother Goose game calling for original poems from each member. Mr. Edward Fuller rendered instrumental music, and Dr. Magee and Mr. Hezmalhalch delighted all with several well-chosen songs. The charm of the entire evening, however, culminated in the readings given in her well-known and much-loved manner, by Mrs. Hezmalhalch. Mr. and Mrs. Hezmalhalch have lived in Glendale since their childhood, and they were sweethearts almost as long as either can remember. With their two children they leave shortly for their new home in Fullerton. They will be greatly missed, for perhaps no couple has ever resided in our valley who have enjoyed such popularity.

The voice of each has contributed many times to an evening's enjoyment, for Mrs. Hezmalhalch is a reader who understands her interpretations, giving them always with the most pleasing finish. Her voice and manner are of decided charm and her renditions always captivating.

Mr. Hezmalhalch for years has been known throughout the valley and in Los Angeles as a singer knowing well how best to captivate his hearers with a voice of splendid range, resonance and feeling.

Residents in general unite with the P. E. O.'s and B. I. L.'s in regretting the departure from among us of this worthy couple, and in wishing them God speed, prosperity and a long and happy life.

Mr. S. B. Reid, who has resided at Tropico most of the time for the past year, died at his residence there on November 29th, and was buried in Forest Lawn cemetery on the 30th after services at the Brethren church Mr. Reid was born in Mason County Kentucky, in 1835. He lived in that State until 1869 when he removed to Carroll county, Missouri, where he resided until 1904, when he came to California with his family and settled on an alfalfa farm near Burbank where he remained until his removal to Tropico, about a year ago. Mr. Reid was a successful farmer and stock dealer, a man of strict principles and reliable in all his dealings.

He leaves a widow and five children, two of the latter being in California, the others in Missouri.

Oratorio Performance

A musical treat is in store for those who attend the rendering of Handel's world-famous oratorio, "The Messiah," which will be given at the Shrine Temple, 631 West Jefferson street, Los Angeles, next Thursday evening, December 12th, by the Apollo Club, with a great chorus of 200 voices, eminent soloists and a large orchestra of professional musicians. Genevieve Clarke Wilson, the soprano, has a reputation as a great singer in oratorio and comes to Los Angeles particularly for this engagement.

The director is Dr. Eugene E. Davis, a thorough musician with large experience in this particular line of work; and the work of the club under his direction shows marked improvement.

Other soloists will be Abraham Miller, tenor; Estelle Cathrine Heartt, contralto, and Charles Bowes, bass.

There will be an afternoon song recital on the same date, at which an opportunity will be given those unable to attend in the evening to hear this fine aggregation of soloists and in addition enjoy hearing the noted violinist, Natorp Blumenfeld, who is down for two solos at the matinee.

The temple is reached by four lines of cars: Jefferson street on Main; West Jefferson on Hill; Grand avenue on Broadway, and the University cars on Spring street.

Mr. M. Z. Remsburgh, who resides on Belmont (B) street, a member of the club, will be glad to supply tickets to the Glendale people who wish to attend this performance. Tickets 50c., 75c. and $1.00.

Rev. F. I. Wheat spoke at Odd Fellows hall last Saturday evening to an audience of about thirty people, upon "The Cause and Remedy of the Present Financial Condition." The most of his lecture was devoted to the advocacy of Socialism. In regard to the subject of his talk he said that "all financial panics are the result of over-production." He advocated for relief the issuance of "money" by municipalities, guaranteed by the government.

Some Plain Facts

Before many moons there is going to be another editor at the helm of this paper, and I want to have a little heart to heart talk with the business men and merchants of this town. And understand, now that it is a pretty sure thing that I am not going to be in the position long. I am not talking for myself in this little theme. For years I have given the people of this town a better paper than the town has paid for. And it may surprise some of you to learn that there is not another newspaper in all this great state of California that uniformly gives its readers so great an amount of original matter in proportion to its advertising, as this paper does. But notwithstanding this fact, I have been importuned time and again to publish a bigger paper—while the paper is really too big for the amount of patronage that is bestowed upon it. Now, there are business men in this city who are loud in their cries for "patronizing home industry," who think it unnecessary to patronize the home printing office. Well, so far as I am concerned, that seems to be a matter, almost, of the past. But I want to ask these men to think this matter over and see if they cannot find it in their hearts to treat my successor with more consideration than they ever treated me. I have kept the paper going through long years of dullness, when I was forced to dig up the money to pay expenses from other sources than the meagre income of the office. But now the city has grown to a size that should make the running of the paper fairly remunerative if the business men who are so persistent for the patronizing of home industry would practice what they preach and freely patronize the home printing office to the extent of advertising, job work and subscriptions. It is the best form of advertising that any city can have, to have a well patronized prosperous newspaper.—Glover, in South Pasadenan.

Preparations are going on in the school and churches for Christmas exercises. The Presbyterian and Christian churches have united in the exercises for this year, to be given in the Christian church. A cantata will be given by the different members of the churches. The Methodist church will give their program in the church on Christmas evening.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The stereopticon exhibition and lecture last Saturday, coming as it did immediately after the Thanksgiving vacation, was very poorly attended. The entertainment given by Mr. and Mrs. Smith deserved better patronage. As it was a small amount was netted for the Athletic Association.

The boys of the basket ball team went to Azusa last Saturday and received a royal welcome, but were compelled to beat their hosts by a score of 49 to 19. There remain only three games to be played in the league contests now. Their hardest game will be played today when they meet the Los Angeles High School boys in Los Angeles.

On the 14th the Santa Monica team will play here and on the 21st our home team goes to San Fernando.

The boys have so far played seven games and won all except the one lost to the Whittier boys. There are eleven teams in the league. The boys are now beginning to turn their attention to base ball on the new play grounds on Central avenue. After New Years there will be no more basket ball games in series and attention will be given instead to baseball and track events.

The Literary society is planning for an extended program on the Friday preceding the Christmas vacation; the afternoon exercises will be public.

HEARD ON THE STREET.

"Say, have you seen the new public building?"

"No. Where?"

"Why just back of the city hall. Say, it's a lollapaloosa."

"Hadn't noticed; fact is, I've been out of town. Suppose the city sold bonds to provide funds for it?"

"Not much. The people voted $5000 for bonds which sold for $6000, to buy fire apparatus and this new building is for the fire department."

"Ah, that is quite proper. Suppose they used part of the fund for a building?"

"Oh, no, they couldn't do that. The people voted on a bond issue a few months ago for building a city hall; a majority favored it but the minority knocked it out."

"Oh, but say doesn't the majority rule in this country?"

"No, not when it comes to a bond issue. But here is the new municipal building. Isn't it a beaut?"

"That thing! Is this it?"

"Sure; cost fifteen dollars, I guess."

"Fifteen cents, you mean; and that's profligacy! Watch the ladies on Saturday. They'll have it in the waste basket!"
